

FED'L GOV'T MUST BE OVERHAULED, HE TELLS WOMEN

Clarence Turner Addresses Republican Women At Doylestown

AN OPEN MEETING

Bureaucrats, More Than Anyone Else, Cause of High Gov't Costs

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 2 — "The Federal Government must be overhauled to eliminate waste, overlapping and duplication," Clarence Turner, of the Philadelphia Citizens' Committee for the Hoover Report, told an audience Monday at an open meeting of the Bucks County Council of Republican Women, in the auditorium of the high school, here.

The speaker, a resident of Montgomery county and a certified public accountant who has been working with the Hoover Commission, discussed "the unenacted recommendations of the Hoover Commission for the reorganization of the government."

The program was planned by the Central Townships Council of Republican Women, and the speaker was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Julian P. Perry, of Furlong. A sound picture in color was also presented on the Hoover Report.

"The bureaucrats in Washington more than anyone else, are the cause of the high cost of government," Turner declared. "They will do anything, just to keep in office and to get more jobs for their friends. It is not so much a question of Democrat and Republican; it is the bureaucrat we must eliminate."

Mr. Turner stated that the government budget for 1952 calling for $71 billions, means an average of

WCS Displays Clothing For Deaconess Home Mart

A meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held in Bristol Methodist Church last evening. Mrs. Frank Jenks presided. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Edward Ballinger entitled "Easter."

Mrs. Richard Winslow, Sr., and Mrs. Warren Jennings rendered a vocal duet, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Van Gilder.

The lesson, entitled "Labor and Unions," was presented by Mrs. Howard Smoyer. Decision was made to hold a covered dish supper May 6th with Mrs. Charles Rathke as chairman.

A display of clothing was shown that will be given to the Deaconess Home, Phila., for the spring mart. The display was in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Mulholland.

Mrs. Arthur Spicer reported the purchase of a refrigerator for the parsonage.

The meeting closed with a prayer circle, followed by refreshments served by Mrs. Jacob Smith, Jr., Miss Jessie Mansell, Mrs. Morgan Fulton and Mrs. William Mohre.

SQUAD HAS BUSY DAY

The Bucks County Rescue Squad transported Wayne Lewis, Eddington, to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia; Henry Killian, from Harman Hospital to Abington Hospital and return; Adams Lantz, Cedar avenue, Croydon, to Abington Hospital, yesterday. Joseph Dawicki, Eddington, was taken to the Jeanes Hospital, Philadelphia, this morning.

BIND SENKOVICH OVER FOR LEHIGH CO. COURT

Bucks Prison Escapee and 2 Others Charged With Armed Robbery

PLEAD "NOT GUILTY"

ALLENTOWN, Apr. 2 — A Bucks County prison escapee, Michael J. Senkovich, and two brothers, William and Stephen Klobier, both of this county, have been bound over for the April term of Lehigh county criminal court. The trio is charged with participation in the armed hold-up robbery of $2,556.67 from the R. and F. Dress Corporation on Feb. 29th.

All three, the four-time prison escapee Senkovich and the brothers pleaded "not guilty" on Saturday in the hearing loaded with repartee between Dist. Atty. M. J. Morgan and former Dist. Atty. Theodore Gardner. The latter represented the Klobiers; Senkovich had no counsel.

Seated handcuffed to Police Officer Robert Sperling was the self-confessed holdup man, Michael J. Senkovich. He wore a heavy red corduroy jacket and brown fedora, with rolled-up brim, throughout the hearing. He was stern with the exception of a minute when a brother pushed through the crowded room to talk to him.

One of the policemen assigned to guard Senkovich was Policeman Samuel Black. Senkovich pleaded guilty last Thursday to entering Black's apartment on the N. 7th St. extension and stealing the policeman's .38 caliber service gun.

Seated a short distance from Senkovich, Mrs. Williams pointed to the prison escapee and testified that he was one of the men.

Senkovich did all of the talking.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

After one year of operation of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, "the tide has begun to flow our way" and the free world now is much better prepared to defend itself, General Eisenhower told the fourteen nations under his North Atlantic Command in his first annual report. Although some of his forces in Western Europe are now being equipped with tactical atomic weapons, General Eisenhower did not mention them in his report. But he did refer to "fundamental changes" in military thinking made necessary by "new types of arms."

At Las Vegas (Nev.) Proving Grounds the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed a new type of atomic explosion when a plane dropped a device that burst near the ground.

General Eisenhower not only endorsed the steps toward uniting Europe under the Marshall and Schuman Plans, but also looked forward to similar moves in agriculture, electric power and money values. Prime Minister Churchill said Britain would "certainly agree" to another American as head of SHAPE should General Eisenhower decide to leave his post.

Premier Stalin said he did not feel that the world was closer to war now than it was two or three years ago. He stated this opinion

DOUBLETALK ON VOTING

Very few commentators appear to have noted the considerable amount of doubletalk involved in the recent long pronouncement by President Truman on the subject of soldiers' voting. He wants servicemen to be able to vote in this year's election, and it took him an astonishing number of words to say so. But throughout the long statement, he carefully detoured any mention of the real problem.

The fact is that the Federal government and many state governments have a good deal of machinery available for the purpose of making soldier voting possible, regardless of where the servicemen are located—even in the cases where their exact whereabouts is a military secret.

Why can't this machinery be used? For the reason that the great bulk of it is usable only "in time of war."

Mr. Truman referred to this technicality, as readers of his statement are well aware, and produced as the singularly lame explanation of his concern the suggestion that the Japanese Treaty might soon terminate the state of war in which we have been living for 10 1/2 years.

But of course that's not the real catch. The real joker in the war clause is that we have a war on in Korea, but that the president, for political reasons, isn't willing to call it a "war", and insists on the term, "police action."

That's the reason he had to wander all around the barn trying to explain his views of service-ballooting without putting the cards on the table.

This is, in fact, only one of many ways in which the American boys who have fought, some to die and some to return, upon the foggy hills of Korea, have been "gypped" because Mr. Truman has never been willing to concede that he and his friend Mr. Acheson dragged this nation through the backdoor into another war.

In such matters as battle-citations, decorations, wartime service, etc., the Korean veterans have been getting a runaround to save Mr. Truman's political face.

Likewise in a long list of other matters involving such questions as dependent's allowances, insurance, combat service, etc., etc.

The boys who come home from Korea can tell you all about

FIRM EMPLOYING 900 HAD START IN GARAGE

Product of Fischer & Porter Co., Hatboro, Now Known Around The World

SHIPMENTS ARE HUGE

HATBORO, Apr. 2—An imaginary birthday cake is being cut this month of April as the Fischer & Porter Company, of Hatboro, celebrates 15 years of operation.

More than 900 persons are today employed in the plant that was actually born in a garage building, as the result of a dream and extended credit. Originally there were but two men working in the plant "around the clock." Today, the product of the plant is known throughout the world, with subsidiary factories in Canada, England, France, Australia and The Netherlands.

Manufacturers of process control instruments from the start, when 670 instruments left the plant, shipments are now nearing the million mark.

The products of the well-known Hatboro plant, which employs many Bucks countians, have played an important part in the wonders of

PUC GIVES YARDLEY HIGHER WATER RATE

Bills of Flat Rate Consumer To Increase from $33.92 To $39.02

RATE INCREASE $6,000

By International News Service
HARRISBURG, Apr. 2—The Public Utility Commission today approved a $6,000 annual rate increase by the Yardley Water and Power Co., which serves 977 customers in Bucks County.

At the same time, the Commission directed revision of metered rates of small consumers, with completion of the ordered rate changes as P. U. C. suspension and investigation into the tax boost will be ended.

The Commission directed the utility to fix a $7.95 minimum quarterly charge for the first 2,000 gallons or less and 66c a thousand for the next 23,000 gallons.

Yardley had asked a minimum quarterly charge of $13.23 for up to 10,000 gallons and 66c per thousand for the next 15,000 gallons. The remainder of Yardley's rate structure is unchanged.

The Commission's order will result in lower charges for small quantity consumers.

Bills of the average flat rate customers will go from $33.92 to $39.02 annually. The PUC had suspended the rates for nine months, starting last July 1st, for investigation.

DR. H. DOYLE WEBB DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME HERE

Well-Known Bristol Physician is Victim of Heart Attack Early Today

LOCATED HERE IN 1918

Was Active in Civic and Fraternal Affairs Here

An outstanding member of the medical profession in this community died suddenly early this morning, when Dr. H. Doyle Webb passed away at his residence, Radcliffe street and Jefferson avenue, of coronary occlusion. Dr. Webb had been in Philadelphia yesterday, and returning to his home in the afternoon suffered an attack. He was under constant medical attention from then until the time of his death shortly after midnight.

The death of Dr. Webb creates a vacancy not only in medical circles of this and the adjacent community, but also loses to the community a man close to the family lives of hundreds of residents of the area. He was interested in civic affairs, fraternal activities, and humanitarian projects.

Dr. Webb was born in Clinton township, Lycoming county, October 30, 1889, the son of Melvin Webb and Thelma A. Folk Webb. The survivor, in addition to his wife, Jane Frances MacMichael Webb, whom he married in New York, N. Y., Nov. 21, 1923, is a brother, Maurice F. Webb, of Coatesville.

Receiving his early education in the public schools of Clinton township, Dr. Webb then became a student at the State Normal School at Muncie, from which he graduated in 1908, and after taking a course in science at Pennsylvania State College he followed his medical studies at the Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia. He graduated in 1913 with the degree of doctor of medicine. He came to Bristol a year later and took up the practice of his profession, becoming associated with the late Dr. J. H. Webb.

ACTION BEING TAKEN ON NEW ORDINANCE

Police Committee Planning For Purchase of New Parking Meters

FINES TO BE RAISED

John S. Lynn, chairman of the police committee of Bristol Borough Council, stated today that action is being taken on the ordinance passed at the last council meeting to increase the number of parking meters and to increase the fine for violations.

Lynn added: "The police committee as a whole has finished quite a bit of the necessary preliminary steps that must be taken before the meters themselves can be installed. The meters should be installed in the near future. The raising of the fine for parking meter violations from $1 to $2 is now in effect."

The ordinance passed at the last council meeting approved the installation of meters in three new areas. They are:

- (1) The 200 block on Wood and Cedar streets, between Market and Mulberry streets, on one side of the street, with no parking on the other side.
- (2) Down Otter street to Swain street on both sides.
- (3) The Harriman business section on both sides of Farragut avenue from Monroe street to Hayes street.

TAKE LOYALTY OATH

The loyalty oath was administered to members of the faculty and other employees of Bristol Borough school district, as well as to two school directors, Monday afternoon. This was the second time for the group to "sign" the papers. The first time the faculty members and other employees signed the necessary papers individually in their own school buildings, but it was found necessary to take the oath after a certain date as specified by law. The junior and senior high school teachers, employees in the high school building, and directors Alfred Lewis and John Dougherty, were administered the oath in the high school library at 3.15. At three o'clock, elementary teachers and other district employees took the oath in Jefferson avenue school building. Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol administered the oath.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Bristol Fathers Association tonight at eight o'clock at the home of Nicholas Mannherz, West Circle.

Report New Bridge Plan For New Hope-Lambertville

NEW HOPE, Apr. 2—A new Delaware River bridge to supplement the admittedly outmoded New Hope-Lambertville span, is being planned as part of a major bypass highway on Rt. 202 it was learned here. The proposed road will cut out entirely the congested business areas of the two communities.

The news came as the present 48-year-old bridge, called "obsolete" by town officials and residents, was closed permanently last Wednesday to all trucks weighing more than one ton.

The proposed Rt. 202 bypass which will begin at the western end of New Hope and lead to the proposed bridge near Rabbit Run at the town's northern boundary, will connect with Rt. 202 at the northern tip of Lambertville, it was reported. Plans for the new bridge will be discussed at a meeting of the commission next month.

ASSIGN NEW RECTOR TO ANDALUSIA CHURCH

Rev. Arthur W. Matthews Transferred from Parish in Chester

STARTS PALM SUNDAY

ANDALUSIA, Apr. 2—A new rector has been assigned to the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, here. He is the Rev. Arthur W. Matthews, who comes to Andalusia from St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Chester.

The Rev. Mr. Matthews will assume his new duties on Sunday next—Palm Sunday. He took up residence in the rectory, adjoining the church, yesterday.

The new rector succeeds the Rev. Charles Finch, who left the local rectorship in January. In the interim the Rev. Dr. Hall, who is in charge of Episcopal chaplains, has been serving the local parish for the past several weeks.

LARGE BIRTH LIST

Seventy-seven births were recorded at Abington Memorial Hospital for the two weeks ending Mar. 29th, 41 males and 36 females. Ten Bucks Countians are listed: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mulvey, Bristol, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilkowski, Trevese, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Piuma, Croydon, a son; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Elwell, Warminster, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Gee, Doylestown, R. D. 3, a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. James C. Postpone Action on Trailer Tax Ordinance

Cornwells Heights—Approximately 50 individuals attended a meeting of Bensalem Twp. Supervisors in the Rigby building, here, this morning, protesting the proposed ordinance which would impose a $5 tax per month on trailers in the township. Action on the ordinance was postponed for two weeks. William White, chairman of the board, presided. Robert M. Beutner, president of Pa. Trailer Coach & Park Ass'n, attended also. John T. Fullam, Esq., and Chas. B. Ermentrout, Esq., appeared on behalf of the protestors, the Bucks Co. Trailer Owners Ass'n. Fullam presented five petitions, signed by over 500 people (not all trailer owners), the petitions claiming that the tax is "discriminatory and unfair, and out of proportion to taxes levied on other taxpayers in the township." The supervisors were asked to reconsider and levy a "just and equitable tax."

Ermentrout stated he felt the tax is unconstitutional as "you cannot tax trailers as trailers, but must tax them according to the value of each trailer." He added that there is already a school tax in Bensalem twp. of $2 per month per trailer. "You cannot tax trailers twice," he informed. Ermentrout gave as the third reason for "unconstitutionality" that "You cannot force the owner of a park to collect the tax." He added "The power to tax is the power to destroy. It is well-known that the object of the ordinance is to drive trailer camps out of the township. If you pass this ordinance you will destroy a business."

Kefauver Wins

Omaha—Senator Robert Kerr today conceded the Nebraska Democratic primary election to Senator Estes Kefauver as Senator Robert Taft widened his write-in margin over General Eisenhower in the Republican preferential balloting. Taft moved nearly five-thousand votes ahead of Eisenhower after a night-long neck-and-neck race. The Ohioan had the margin with more than half the state's 2,058 precincts reported.

In Nazareth Hospital

Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell, 57, of Street road near State road, Eddington, died in Nazareth hospital this morning.

Mrs. Mitchell had been in ill health for sometime and was more or less disturbed during the night. She was under the care of a physician. She made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Biren Bass, (Mrs. Bass is a niece of Mrs. Mitchell) and this morning Mrs. Mitchell, according to Chief of Police George Rentz, of Bensalem Township, informed Mr. and Mrs. Bass that she had taken poison during the night.

COMPLICATED WEAPONS

An article in the latest issue of Fortune Magazine asks whether newer military weapons aren't becoming complicated to the point of diminishing returns. "Not every military gadget is necessarily worth whatever it costs," says Fortune, "just because it might save a life."

Here are a few examples the editors have chosen to document their case: A B-36 bomber carries 2,143 vacuum tubes, which, they say, may help explain the shockingly low availability of these planes at B-36 bases. An F-86 fighter has 495 vacuum tubes aboard and there are 86 switches, levers, and the like which the pilot must know how to push, pull, twist, and so on. The same pilot has about 100 other dials and indicators to watch.

All Army trucks are being fitted with an expensive "snorkel" attachment which will permit their being driven under water. The chance of any single truck having to make a snorkel voyage has been figured at about one in 1,000.

The Navy started out to build a small, easily put together killer submarine. But the Bureau of Ships kept tossing in this and that gadget until the finished product can only be built by about one yard in the country. The hull is so jam-packed with complicated gear that the crew complement has been trebled and there is room for only four torpedoes inside the hull! The cost is now $10,000,000 per sub. Big fleet-type subs formerly were built for $3,500,000.

Some of our complicated weapons and their terrifying maintenance problems seem to reflect pet projects and hunches of military leaders more than they do the sober findings of civilian-military weapons evaluation and research groups.

HOW DEADLY THE FUTURE

The year 1952 is old enough now for its record of highway deaths to be put in comparison with records of the past. One-fourth of 1952 is history. Highway deaths have shown a gain over last year.

The nation is face to face with the prospect of vastly more killing on the roads, year by year, unless some great, new, tactical effort is made. In 15 years there may be twice as many cars as now.
In 1952 roads seem crowded with 50,000,000 vehicles. By 1967 there may be 100,000,000.

Somehow, ways must be found to shake Americans awake. Insurance companies are pulling together now for an all-out attack on highway death and destruction.
What education cannot accomplish, perhaps law enforcement can. And certainly proposals for roads with more built-in safety and for "training children today to live with tomorrow's traffic," are moves in the right direction.

Bandits who stole $600,000 in Massachusetts fled, as usual, in a black sedan, apparently not wishing to break any conventions.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Apr. 2.—It is going to cost us $101,237 more this year to keep President Truman in the style to which he is now accustomed.

One of the major items of increased expenditures at the White House is $38,890 to help keep the President cool. This is the price tag on the electric light and power bill for the White House for 1952, a sum that staggered House Appropriations committee members who admit they usually growl if their own utility bills pass the $10 mark monthly. The amount will help pay for running the new air conditioning unit installed in the renovated White House.

Moving vans already have hauled the historic furniture and paintings back to the executive mansion. The President is anxious to move back in, after the refurbishing job that cost $5,000,000. Workmen at the White House state that when in Washington, Mr. Truman almost daily, late in the afternoon, wanders over to the White House from his executive offices to check the day's rebuilding progress.

The President and his family will not only be cooler this summer, but will have more room and a larger staff of servants. Ten new servants have been authorized by the House Appropriations committee for 1952, including four engineers, two electricians and four housemen.

No one, least of all the congressmen on the committee, can figure out where the new White House space is coming from. The remodeled job, which was authorized by congress only after many presidential promises that the basic structure would be retained, now has 40 per cent more space than previously.

The money that was supposed to have been spent for the preservation of the historic building, actually was spent in remodeling the entire interior, plus raising the roof, deepening the basement and constructing a solarium atop the building. About all that is left of the old building is the exterior shell.

White House reconstruction work was supposed to be completed last December, but labor difficulties and shortages of material delayed the rebuilding and increased the President's anxiety. There were no actual strikes, only jurisdictional disputes over the installation of various devices and materials.

Another point interesting to congressmen is that the President has been spending more money in operating the White House than the law allows. This, despite the fact that the House Appropriations committee and the comptroller general's office have forbidden deficiency appropriations for the executive mansion.

Mr. Truman created what will amount to a $31,600 deficiency this year when he raised salaries of White House employees without consulting congress.

F. T. Gartside, assistant superintendent of the National Capital Parks commission, which maintains the White House and grounds, explained to congress that the President assumed the authority to exceed his, White House and executive office salary budget by digging up an obscure law which the President says gives him the right to increase wages without regard to certain sections of the United States code. Members of the House Appropriations committee are thumbing through the law books looking for the loophole. Mr. Truman is also looking ahead. He has asked congress to consider hiring one assistant housekeeper to help keep him comfortable, in addition to the 10 other new employees. This employee, to be paid $4,045 annually, will be charged off against the 1953 budget.

Gartside persuaded the congressmen to go along with the president's request when he said:

"We have one housekeeper authorized and want an assistant because obviously somebody must be there 16 hours out of the 24, and the only way to get a 24-hour housekeeper is to marry one."

That ended the discussion. House members present were aware that too much talk of this nature could lead to trouble at home.

On Saturday evening a miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Mary Mack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mack, West Circle, by the Misses Kay Van Clef and Ella McFadden, at the latter's home, 1326 Pond street.

Decorations were in pink and white with silver watering cans filled with mints as favors. Guests were: Mrs. William Mack, Jr., Mrs. G. Hill, Southampton; Mrs. Herbert VanClef, Red Bank, N. J.; Miss Louise Mack, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. C. Woodward, Abington; Mrs. William Foresanger, Philadelphia; Mrs. William Mack, Sr., Mrs. Thomas Mack, Mrs. Herman Silber, Mrs. Edward McVaine, Mrs. Nicholas Sabatini, Mrs. Joseph Gottsabend, Mrs. Gladys Nise, the Misses Elizabeth Cunningham, Janice Singer, Katherine Fannin, Rosella and Mary McVaine, Marguerite McFadden.

Shopping For New Footwear

Comfortable and attractive, these two-tone shoes with their scalloped tongue and fine leather soles are a wise choice.

By HELEN FOLLETT

WHEN you fare forth to buy new footwear, be prepared to wrestle with your conscience but let common sense prevail. You're going to be terribly tempted because you may have to choose between shoes of comfort and those of dazzling loveliness.

If you search long enough, though, you will find a pair that fulfill both qualities. Don't forget that your feet carry your weight—let us hope it is normal weight. You should treat your hoofs with respect, if not loving attention.

To Shorten Feet

Decorations are designed to make feet look shorter, the designers say. Fortunately they aren't shorter. They just look that way because they are built up high in front. That's a good style for the plumpies. A roll of flesh on the top of the foot is no beauty bargain.

Sizes Change

Don't forget that a certain size that is perfectly comfortable in one pair of shoes may be virtually crippling, if you switch to another model. Don't insist on a size if it isn't comfortable.

Finding the ideal last for your foot often involves a trial-and-error process in the shoe store. You'll find it by feel which means sitting, standing and walking. Once you find your best shoe last, stick to it.

Do your shopping late in the day. Believe it or be scornful, but feet tend to elongate during the day, after much tramping. Late buying allows for this expansion.

40 Bensalem Seniors

Leave for Capital

they will check in at the Carroll Arms Hotel, where they will dine at six. During the evening, they will visit Ford's Theater, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial and the National Airport.

Tomorrow, the group will visit the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. From there they will proceed to Jefferson Memorial, Pan American Union and Library of Congress. In the afternoon, they will visit Fort Meyer, Arlington National Cemetery, the Lee Mansion and Alexandria and Mt. Vernon, Va. After dinner, the boys and girls will have a free evening for swimming or theater parties.

The morning of the last day will begin with a tour of the Smithsonian Institute, then a choice of the National Art Gallery or the Dept. of Commerce Aquarium. From 10:30 until noon, the group will go on a shopping tour. Another tour will follow in the afternoon. The bus will take them sightseeing through the district, including embassies, legations, residential Washington, Rock Creek Park, St. Albans Cathedral, and the National Zoological Gardens. After dinner at the hotel, the group will prepare to leave for home. They are expected to arrive home about 11 p. m. Friday.

The seniors in the group are as follows: Barbara Aches, Dorothy Bingham, Dorothy Blank, Doris Brown, Barbara Butz, Margaret Carrillo, Mildred Culp, Louise Dougherty, Angela Gabriele, Marlene Holford, Delores Jacoby, Elizabeth Carruth, Norma Lappan, Doris Leinauer, Marie Meredith, Katherine Miller, Claire Olson, Mary Phillips, Lois Roeschen, Matilda Serravallo, Alice Sleeman, Jean Stallone, Lillian Tinsman, Sally VanSant, Judith Waters, Robert Ballist, Raymond Bannon, Russell Fifer, Richard Gloyd, James Henry, Edward Hundapillar, Robert MacKenzie, Joseph Makelaites, Allen Morrison, "Paddy" Rever, "Ronnie" Schulz, Clifford Sommerfeld, Louis Uslin, Franklin Werber, Robert Whitfield.

Mrs. Williams reported, and very nervously said several times, "This is a stickup." She was unable to make positive identification of Stephen Kloiber as the second man who entered the building.

The woman said she was ordered to put all of the money in a box carried by Senkovich.

Mrs. Williams described how the two men escaped in a black car and "not a green car as was reported erroneously."

At Morgan's questioning, Mrs. Williams testified Senkovich was the man who stuck up the establishment and "held the gun on Mr. Weinstein (the manager) while I got the money."

Gardner asked one question in cross-examining Mrs. Williams. The woman again reported it was a black car which was used for the getaway of the holdup men.

LT. Mink went through a lengthy questioning by Morgan and Gardner.

Mink testified that Senkovich, in the presence of both Kloibers, admitted that he had robbed the dress factory payroll and admitted knowing the Kloibers.

There was a dispute between Gardner and Mink on the methods used to secure Senkovich's confession. Gardner said he wanted to know the "voluntary nature of the confession."

Senkovich escaped from the Bucks County Prison on December 11, last year, by scaling the wall. He was a trusty at the time. Since that time his record proves that he would qualify for anything but a trusty. Senkovich will most likely be taken back to Bucks county after his Lehigh county case is disposed of in criminal court here.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote "There was a little girl and she had a little curl right in the middle of her forehead."

William Howard Taft was the first president of the 48 states.

Child Fearful Of Bullies

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THINK of all the young children who are in constant dread of bullies. How many parents must be vexed at the bully next door, in the wider neighborhood, or on the way to and from school, the bully who torments their children and keeps them in a continual state of fear.

Many a child in kindergarten or early grades cries to stay home on school mornings, feigns illness then or actually is ill. Parents of the child who often doesn't want to go to school or seems very unhappy about school, should first look into the possibility that this child dreads bullies.

Bully May Be Younger

Sometimes the bully is no older or larger than the child he bullies. Occasionally the bully may actually be the younger. In such an instance the problem may be far more difficult than if the bully were relatively much larger or older. Usually then the intimidated child needs a long self-defense program in the art of self-defense, needs to learn to stand up and protect himself with his bare hands when attacked by another child about his size.

But if this easily-intimidated child has been told he must never fight in self-defense, he may have had so much practice at ready submission, at fighting with sticks and stones, at fighting from ambush, or at running to his mother for protection, that for him now to learn self-defense won't be easy. More often than not he will choose to play with much younger children and bully them himself, or to play with much older children, who incline to protect him and let him have his way.

Normal Rough-and-Tumble

Now you can see why I so often entreat parents to try to get their children, whether three, eight or twelve, to play freely in the rough-and-tumble of the playground with children of their own ages. (My bulletins, "Your Child and His Playmates," and "Fear," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

When the bully your child most often dreads is older and stronger than your child, some protection of your child may be necessary. No use to urge an already over-limbed youngster to take a stand against a bully much bigger or older than himself. If, however, your child should succeed, his victory will be glorious.

Usually Isn't Happy

The best thing to do is to try to change the bully. Usually he's a coward and isn't happy. Fearful of other bullies, he picks out weaker children over whom he can lord it and thus kid himself that he is brave. Or he may enjoy very few satisfactions from achievement at home or elsewhere.

If the bully lives nearby, you might befriend him by hiring him occasionally to run an errand for you, or by inviting him to your premises under favorable conditions. Praise him for worthy traits or deeds and tell his parents of such in his presence. Cub-won't be easy. More often than not he will choose to play with much younger children and bully them himself, or to play with much older children, who incline

Federal Gov't Must Be Overhauled, He Says

$1784 for every family, or $456 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

The Federal government today employs 2,500,000 people at a cost of $3 billion per month. One dollar out of every $4 we earn goes for the support of the Federal government, the speaker said.

"About $1 in every $10 spent is being wasted," Turner declared. "For instance, 29 agencies lend money, 28 handle welfare projects, 16 are in wild life preservation; 50 are compiling statistics. One agency had enough light bulbs to last 93 years. One department had 24 supervisors for 25 employees."

"At least $5,400,000,000 could be saved annually if the Federal government were run efficiently and economically."

The speaker said that 50 per cent of the Hoover Report has already been adopted at an annual savings of $2 billions. The armed services have been unified; the State Department reorganized; budget and accounting systems have been modernized; and the purchasing, storage, records and management procedures improved.

"This was all accomplished," Turner declared, "through the adoption of 21 laws and 26 Presidential reorganization plans based on the bipartisan Hoover Commission's recommendations. They were all enacted by the 81st Congress."

"But, the 82nd Congress which convened in January, 1951, has done practically nothing, despite the fact that 20 Hoover Report bills, covering all the remaining 150 recommendations of the Commission were introduced in both the House and Senate, March and April, 1951."

The speaker said that while President Truman submitted 36 reorganization plans in 1949-50, he introduced only one plan in 1951.

The extra $3 to $5 billions can be saved, Turner said, through reorganization and improvement of the Agricultural Department, Veterans Administration, Federal medical services, natural resources, personnel management and postal services.

The Hoover Commission, Turner explained, was created by Congress, and consisted of six Democrats and six Republicans.

"The money and efficiency costs of replacing over 800,000 government workers in a single year—the present turnover is beyond comprehension," Turner said. "The payroll exceeds $3.3 billions a year, more than the costs of the whole Federal government in any year before World War II."

"As matters stand now, the Government is moving into uncalculated obligations in the medical field without consideration or understanding of their ultimate cost. Today four great agencies and thirty smaller ones independently obtain funds annually, erect their own hospitals to care for their own clientele, and compete with each other for scarce medical personnel."

The speaker described the Department of Agriculture as "awful."

"American farmers are 'key men' in defense and deserve the best possible federal service, but they are not getting it," Turner declared. "The Department of Agriculture spends $32 for each $1 it spent twenty years ago, and its employees have risen from 20,000 to 80,000 not counting over 100,000 part-time workers."

Turner said "a revitalized Veterans Administration is needed, for this is one of the most inefficiently operated departments in Washington."

"There are 19,000,000 veterans today compared with 4,000,000 in 1930 when the administration was established by President Hoover. Each year the number will increase. Before many years, nearly all of the population may be veterans or dependents of veterans. A revitalized bureau will not in any way decrease veterans' benefits, but will provide better and more efficient service for veterans and their families at greatly reduced costs. The American Legion is the one veterans' organization opposing the Hoover Commission's suggestions."

"The speaker said that 'conservation of the nation's natural resources as well as its man-power is vital.'"

"Pork barrel' plans for utilization and development of the nation's water resources and subsoil cannot be controlled unless the ruinous competition between the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation is halted," Turner said.

"And as for an improved postal service, the postal establishment today is a $2 billion business. It still needs decentralization and the removal from politics of the appointment of 24,000 postmasters. Some Hoover Commission recommendations have already been adopted."

The speaker emphasized the way to get the remaining Hoover Report recommendations across is to write to President Truman, to members of Congress, urging the Senate and House leaders to enact the balance of the report, and to do it immediately, for adoption by May 31, 1952.

Meeting in May

Mrs. John W. Cooper, of Doylestown, announced that a meeting of the Council will be held about May 22, in Doylestown, and that U. S. Senator Edward Martin, and Congressman Karl King have been invited to attend. She also urged all Americans to vote at the Primary Election on April 27.

"The kinds of government we have rests entirely upon your shoulders," Mrs. Cooper said.

Last night's meeting was opened by Mrs. Norman W. Lear, of Doylestown, president of the Council. An excellent legislative committee report was presented by Mrs. Donald Weisel, of Doylestown, and several two-piano numbers were presented by the "Piano Symphonette," including Mrs. George Duval, Mrs. William Donaldson, Mrs. Herbert Williams and Mrs. Arthur G. Kinney.

Oak Ridge, the creation of synthetic rubber and in jet flight projects.

The story of the company's growth is a fabulous tale of the boundless energy, foresight and determination of one man—Kermit Fischer, of Doylestown, who as a sales engineer in 1931, became interested in a crude and early form of a flow-rate measuring instrument known as a rotameter, and brought here from Germany.

After experimenting in a small Philadelphia garage building, with a few machines, but plenty of ambition, Fischer hired George Porter as his first employee.

The miracle was finally accomplished and the tube that Fischer wanted, became a reality. The meter could be manufactured, and more accurately than ever before.

After bursting the seams of the garage-home, the business located in Hatboro ten years ago. With research continuously in many fields, the plant has been developed until today it is one of the finest in the country. Some of the tailored instruments are made in silver, gold, platinum and volcanic rock, to cope with the demands of industry.

One of the reasons for Fischer's outstanding success is that he insists that everything be done in a democratic way, to relieve the worker of worry. The company has its own pension plan, sick benefits and hospitalization.

Fifty-fifty profit-sharing is in effect and as much as 31 per cent of the workers' wages has been paid in one month.

"As Owner Kermit Fischer walks about his plant, accompanied by his big white German shepherd dog, 'Storm,' can call most of his employees by their first name, and he insists that they call him by his first name."

Although the big plant is observing its fifteenth birthday this month, Fischer's interests are numerous on the outside, including a love for music, photography, youth welfare, and particularly his interest in "Welcome House."

The plant has its own teletype exchange and its telephone switchboard receives calls daily from all parts of the United States and abroad.

Rapuno Sire Attains An "Approved" Rating

An Ayrshire sire, "Neshaminy Trademark" owned by Michael Rapuno, Newtown, has been given the high rating of "approved," according to the Ayrshire Breeders' Association Executive Secretary, C. T. Conklin, of Brandon, Vt.

The Ayrshire "Approved" rating has been given to the sire in recognition of the superior producing ability of his daughters when compared to their dams.

The Rapuno sire qualified on his nine daughters that average 10688 lbs. of 4.43% milk and 474 lbs. of butterfat.

The "Approved" Ayrshire sire plant that was adopted in 1940 by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association, has enabled Ayrshire breeders all over the country to improve their herds and increase milk production.

these matters, though something has happened to make most of them reluctant to talk except in confidence.

Their close relatives know all about the inconveniences and hardships.

But the public in general appears to have closed its mind. "Business as usual" is the motto, and a great many citizens seem rather happy to have the President's pretext that "there is no war in Korea" as a means of shutting their eyes to what actually has been going on.

Dead soldiers slain in battle being denied the honors due them because President Truman refuses to concede the obvious facts and call his war a "war"—the whole sorry subject is unhappily brought back into the forefront of our minds because it now appears that this same technicality may also rob thousands of soldiers of their right to vote.

Pres't of State Federation Is To Meet Queen Juliana

Mrs. Harry W. Schaaf, of Erie, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, will be one of the honor guests, tomorrow, at Washington, D. C., when Queen Juliana, of Holland, will be the guest of Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at the headquarters of the federation in Washington, D. C.

En route to Washington, Mrs. Schaaf will stop at Harrisburg, where she will meet with her committee planning the 55th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Harrisburg, May 26-27-28. Sessions of the convention will be in the Forum of the State Educational Building. The convention banquet will be held in the Zombo Mosque.

Highlighting the speakers for the convention will be: Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College, who will be the banquet speaker; Catherine Drinker Bowen, famous author, who will be the speaker on Tuesday evening; Dr. F. Eppinger Reinartz, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America, who will speak at the opening session of the convention on Monday afternoon; Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant of General Motors, the Tuesday morning speaker; Mrs. Adolf Robinson, accredited observer, United Nations, a speaker for the Tuesday afternoon session.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Dr. John E. Mertz,
pastor Newtown Presbyterian Church

In the mountains there is need for beacon lights to guide the planes safely over their peaks. The Scriptures insist that man too needs direction. We need to ask ourselves three questions: What is the goal of life? How do I stand with reference to the best? Have I found sufficient power to help me measure up to that which apparently is so far beyond me? Such a quest will end with Jesus, the Morning Light. We are grateful to the teachers, like Socrates, who by their light have helped men chart their courses. But light-houses are not as helpful as daylight for ships seeking port. In Christ there is no darkness at all. He lived the perfect life, and in His obedience to the divine law, climaxed on Calvary, He released energy which makes it possible for us to become new creatures, who want to do His will, rather than feeling a mere compulsion to do right.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Bristol Township Elementary School

Bristol Township school district was represented by Mrs. A. Erna McKeivitt, elementary music teacher, at the Music Educators National Conference convention in Philadelphia, March 21-26. Many inspiring and interesting experiences were shared with representatives from all over the United States plus foreign representatives from Belgium, Israel, Canada and Australia.

The object of M. E. N. C. convention is to give members an opportunity to see and hear the progress of music education in United States public schools. Musical organizations from elementary to college groups coming from various parts of the United States participated.

The keynote of the convention was expressed by Dr. Goslin, administrator of human relations, Peabody Teachers College, in his opening address. He stressed the importance of "freedom in education" if we want to continue the great freedom we enjoy as citizens of the United States.

The Philadelphia schools provided exciting and inspiring demonstrations of the importance of music in the school curriculum through a Saturday morning program of elementary school music activities. A program "Schools on Parade" given on Monday evening showed instrumental, vocal and dancing activities of elementary and high schools.

The Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra held an open rehearsal on Monday morning which is quite without parallel. On Monday afternoon Mrs. McKeivitt attended the tea and reunion of the Fred Waring Workshop members, and again relived the experience of singing under Waring's direction.

OPEN MONDAY and FRIDAY EVENINGS

FRANKLIN EVENS PLAYOFF SERIES; CORNWELLS LOSES

Franklin A. C. evened the playoff series of the Bristol Basketball League, last night, by whipping Cornwells Boys Club, 75-56, on the Goodwill Hose Company court. The third and final game of the series will be played next Monday night at eight o'clock on the Goodwill floor.

Only the first quarter of the tilt was close as the "iron man" stunt of the Cornwells team failed. The regular season champions again used only five players in the lineup but Franklin was hitting from all sides of the court.

The game was tied three times in the initial quarter at 7, 9, and 15, with Curran deadlocking the score at the latter point. However, just before the whistle blew, Howard Keys put Franklin in front by a 17-15 count. The lead swelled as the game progressed and at one point, Franklin held a 23-point lead.

Stan Lelinski started the second period with a side shot and Spencer followed with a tap-in. When Pete Bound scored for Cornwells, the count was 21-17. Bill Curran brought the season champions to within two points with a fielder under the net but Franklin clicked for six field goals and two fouls before Reggie Samero broke the spell by dunking a foul goal. The score at this point was 35-20. Lelinski scored his fifth double-decker of the period and Joe Spencer added another to wipe out three points scored by Oliver and Dwyer. Score at the end of the half was 39-23. Franklin continued to rain in field goals in the third quarter but stopped suddenly and began to coast. Cornwells did not take advantage of the relaxation and were trailing by 55-32 at the end of the third session.

In the fourth quarter, Cornwells began to come to life and scored ten points within the first three minutes to cut the Franklin edge. But Grant Eckert took charge of the situation and scored four successive fielders for Franklin to nullify the Cornwells rally. Eckert scored six fielders in the final quarter to bring his total for the night to 16 points, one more than Stan Lelinski and the same number as scored by Spencer. Keys and Dezzz DeLise also hit the double figures for the winners.

For Cornwells, Bill Curran, Eddie Oliver, and Bound were high with Oliver getting 15 points.

Lineups: Cornwells: Curran, Oliver, Dwyer, Bound, Samero. Franklin: Eckert, Keys, DeLise, Mobley, Lelinski, Palumbo, Spencer.

Referees: Morgan and McCoy; Time: R. Hughes; Scorer: C. Juno; Half-time score: Cornwells 23; Franklin 29.

INTRAMURAL RESULTS

In the Bristol High Senior Intramural League games yesterday, 11-2 won over 11-A-1 by a 28-26 score with Capriotti scoring 14 points for the winning team. 11-A-2 topped 10-1 by a 29-19 count and 11-1-3X won over 10-1-1 by a 31-25 score. Kornstedt scored 13 points in the latter's win while Alfrey was high for 11-A-2.

JEFFERSON WINS OVER THE CELTICS

Jefferson A. C. won over the Celtics in a hard-fought game on the Goodwill Hose court last evening in the preliminary game to the playoffs. Final count was: Jefferson, 32; Celtics, 26.

Bob Strobele was high for the winning team with 13 points while Charlie Brady had 11 points for the Celtics.

Lineups: Celtics: J. Donnelly, J. Hoffman, M. Downs, D. Singer, C. Brady, Burton, Wilkins. Jefferson A. C.: Bove, Holden, Strobele, Cochran, Giambella, Manzo.

Referees: Morgan and McCoy; Time: T. Juno; Scorer: C. Juno; Half-time score: Celtics 13; Jefferson 16.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE OPENS

The Bristol Township Elementary Leagues opened yesterday. In softball, the Laurel Bend girls beat the Delhaas girls, 18-9, with Carol Schell doing the pitching for the winners. In baseball, the Delhaas team, with Alton Rexrode on the mound, defeated the Laurel Bend boys, 9-6.

SEWING BOYS

Paragraphs of interest to those interested in the Bristol Young Men's Christian Association.

The Celtics basketball team made a clean sweep in the Y. M. C. A. senior league. In addition to winning the regular season championship, they defeated the Langhorne Aces on the Rohm & Haas court by a score of 68 to 47 to win the playoffs. The Celtics team completely dominated the 10-team league for the entire season. They played consistently good ball all year long. They specialized in team play which was a big factor in all of their victories. Charlie Brady with 23 points and Mike Downs' 18 points led the winners against the Langhorne Aces in the final game. Big Bill Mulligan played a good game under the backboards. John Ludwig of the losing team had 16 points. At one time during the game the Celtics held a slim 41-38 score but turned on the pressure to turn the game into a runaway.

It was announced by the managers of both these teams that they are seeking post-season games.

All of the playoffs were very well officiated by Joseph Sagolla, physical education instructor of the Bristol school system.

In addition to the ten teams in the past season it is anticipated that at least six more teams will be in the league next year.

The Bristol Clubmen's Association will present a trophy to the Celtics team, winners of the league, at a meeting of the Hibernians of Bristol, sponsors of the Celtics team. The Clubmen's Association have recently presented a similar trophy to St. Ann's A. A. Jrs., winners of the Midget YMCA League.

Fish Amandine

4 ounces broad noodles
¼ cup enriched bread crumbs
1 tablespoon enriched flour
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
¼ cup milk
4 fish fillets
Salt and pepper

¼ cup slivered almonds
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender (about 5 minutes). Drain and rinse. While noodles are cooking, combine the bread crumbs, flour and salt. Mix in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add milk and fold in noodles. Place in greased 1½ quart casserole. Arrange fish fillets on top. Season with salt and pepper. Brown almonds lightly in remaining butter or margarine. Add lemon juice to almonds and spoon over fish fillets. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 25 minutes or until fish is tender. Makes 4 servings.

An eager audience watches Roy Wise, of Lebanon, install a telephone. Roy, a telephone man for 17 years, is typical of the installers who help expand Pennsylvania's telephone system.

WELCOME ARRIVAL!

One man who can count on a glad reception on every visit he makes is the telephone installer

He knows how eagerly his arrival is awaited. And he knows how much it can mean, in time, convenience and travel saved, for each new telephone customer.

Telephone installers, like other telephone men and women, would like nothing better than to be able to connect every new telephone on the very day it is asked for. Most of the time, in most places, this can be done. But when new cable, new switchboards and other Central Office equipment are needed... as is sometimes the case... new telephones just can't be installed on short notice. The job takes time... and it takes many materials that are anything but plentiful. But we're doing everything we possibly can to meet every request for service, both civilian and military, with the least possible delay.

High Gov't Costs

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 2—“The Federal Government must be overhauled to eliminate waste, overlapping and duplication,” Clarence Turner, of the Philadelphia Citizens' Committee for the Hoover Report, told an audience Monday at an open meeting of the Bucks County Council of Republican Women, in the auditorium of the high school here.

The speaker, a resident of Montgomery county and a certified public accountant who has been working with the Hoover Commission, discussed “the unneeded recommendations of the Hoover Commission for the reorganization of the government.”

The program was planned by the Central Township Council of Republican Women, and the speaker was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Julian P. Perry, of Purling. A sound picture in color was also presented on the Hoover Report.

“The bureaucrats in Washington more than anyone else, are the cause of the high cost of government,” Turner declared. “They will do anything, just to keep in office and to get more jobs for their friends. It is not so much a question of Democrat and Republican; it is the bureaucrats we must eliminate.”

Mr. Turner stated that the government budget for 1952 calling for $71 billions, means an average of

WCS Displays Clothing For Deaconess Home Mart

A meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held in Bristol Methodist Church last evening. Mrs. Frank Jenks presided. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Edward Ballinger entitled “Easter.” Mrs. Richard Winslow, Sr., and Mrs. Warren Jennings rendered a vocal duet, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Van Gilder.

The lesson, entitled “Labor and Unions,” was presented by Mrs. Howard Smoyer. Decision was made to hold a covered dish supper May 6th with Mrs. Charles Rathke as chairman.

A display of clothing was shown that will be given to the Deaconess Home, Phila., for the spring mart. The display was in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Mulholland.

Mrs. Arthur Spicer reported the purchase of a refrigerator for the parsonage.

The meeting closed with a prayer circle, followed by refreshments served by Mrs. Jacob Smith, Jr., Miss Jessie Mansell, Mrs. Morgan Fulton and Mrs. William Mohr.

To Be Buried on Friday

Mrs. Flora Langdon died yesterday in the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Camden, N. J., at the age of 68 years. Her illness had been brief.

The deceased was the widow of William J. Langdon, and for the past two years had lived with a son in Camden, and prior to that resided with a son in Bridgewater. The survivors are three sons, Milton E., of Scranton; Arnold H., of Camden; and Kermit, of Bridge-water; three daughters, Mrs. Harry Heiss, Lewisburg; Mrs. Vincent Wisdom, of Delaware twp., N. J.; Mrs. Ernest Barkel, of Palmyra, N. J.; and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at two o'clock at a funeral home at 1620 Sanderson avenue, Scranton. Friends may call Thursday evening.

BIND SENKOVICH OVER
FOR LEHIGH CO. COURT*Bucks Prison Escapee and 2
Others Charged With Armed Robbery*PLEAD “NOT GUILTY”

ALLENTOWN, Apr. 2—A Bucks County prison escapee, Michael J. Senkovich, and two brothers, William and Stephen Klobier, both of this county, have been bound over for the April term of Lehigh county criminal court. The trio is charged with participation in the armed hold-up robbery of $2,556.67 from the R. and F. Dress Corporation on Feb. 29th.

All three, the four-time prison escapee Senkovich and the brothers pleaded “not guilty” on Saturday in the hearing loaded with repartee between Dist. Atty. M. J. Morgan and former Dist. Atty. Theodore Gardner. The latter represented the Klobiers; Senkovich had no counsel.

Seated handcuffed to Police Officer Robert Sperling was the self-confessed holdup man, Michael J. Senkovich. He wore a heavy red corduroy jacket and brown fedora, with rolled-up brim, throughout the hearing. He was stern with the exception of a minute when a brother pushed through the crowded room to talk to him.

One of the policemen assigned to guard Senkovich was Policeman Samuel Black. Senkovich pleaded guilty last Thursday to entering Black's apartment on the N. 7th St. extension and stealing the policeman's .38 caliber service gun.

Seated a short distance from Senkovich, Mrs. Williams pointed to the prison escapee and testified that he was one of the men.

Senkovich did all of the talking.

Pinocle Devotees Enjoy

High scorers were: J. S. Whyatt, 813; Mrs. H. Albright, 776; S. King, 776; A. McDonnell, 764; Mrs. E. Barr, 747.

Home-made pies, tea and coffee were served by the committee: Mrs. George E. Boswell, Mrs. Arthur Britton, Mrs. Thomas Brannigan, Mrs. Wesley Bunting, Mrs. John Burtonwood, and Mrs. Walter Cooper.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

After one year of operation of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, “the tide has begun to flow our way” and the free world now is much better prepared to defend itself, General Eisenhower told the fourteen nations under his North Atlantic Command in his first annual report. Although some of his forces in Western Europe are now being equipped with tactical atomic weapons, General Eisenhower did not mention them in his report. But he did refer to “fundamental changes” in military thinking made necessary by “new types of arms.”

At Las Vegas (Nev.) Proving Grounds the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed a new type of atomic explosion when a plane dropped a device that burst near the ground.

General Eisenhower not only endorsed the steps toward uniting Europe under the Marshall and Schuman Plans, but also looked forward to similar moves in agriculture, electric power and money values. Prime Minister Churchill said Britain would “certainly agree” to another American as head of SHAPE should General Eisenhower decide to leave his post.

Premier Stalin said he did not feel that the world was closer to war now than it was two or three years ago. He stated this opinion

DOUBLETALK ON VOTING

Very few commentators appear to have noted the considerable amount of doubletalk involved in the recent long pronouncement by President Truman on the subject of soldiers' voting. He wants servicemen to be able to vote in this year's election, and it took him an astonishing number of words to say so. But throughout the long statement, he carefully detoured any mention of the real problem.

The fact is that the Federal government and many state governments have a good deal of machinery available for the purpose of making soldier voting possible, regardless of where the servicemen are located—even in the cases where their exact whereabouts is a military secret.

Why can't this machinery be used? For the reason that the great bulk of it is usable only “in time of war.”

Mr. Truman referred to this technicality, as readers of his statement are well aware, and produced as the singularly lame explanation of his concern the suggestion that the Japanese Treaty might soon terminate the state of war in which we have been living for 101 these many years.

But of course that's not the real catch.

The real joker in the war clause is that we have a war on in Korea, but that the president, for political reasons, isn't willing to call it a “war”, and insists on the term, “police action.”

That's the reason he had to wander all around the barn trying to explain his views of service-balloting without putting the cards on the table.

This is, in fact, only one of many ways in which the American boys who have fought, some to die and some to return, upon the foggy hills of Korea, have been “gypped” because Mr. Truman has never been willing to concede that he and his friend Mr. Acheson dragged this nation through the backdoor into another war.

In such matters as battle-citations, decorations, wartime service, etc., the Korean veterans have been getting a runaround to save Mr. Truman's political face.

Likewise in a long list of other matters involving such questions as dependent's allowances, insurance, combat service, etc., etc.

The boys who come home from Korea can tell you all about

HATBORO, Apr. 2—An imaginary birthday cake is being cut this month of April as the Fischer & Porter Company, of Hatboro, celebrates 15 years of operation.

More than 900 persons are today employed in the plant that was actually born in a garage building, as the result of a dream and extended credit. Originally there were but two men working in the plant “around the clock.” Today, the product of the plant is known throughout the world, with subsidiary factories in Canada, England, France, Australia and The Netherlands.

Manufacturers of process control instruments from the start, when 670 instruments left the plant, shipments are now nearing the million mark.

The products of the well-known Hatboro plant, which employs many Bucks countians, have played an important part in the wonders of

PUC GIVES YARDLEY
HIGHER WATER RATE*Bills of Flat Rate Consumer
To Increase from $33.92
To $39.02*RATE INCREASE $6,000

By International News Service
HARRISBURG, Apr. 2—The Public Utility Commission today approved a $6,000 annual rate increase by the Yardley Water and Power Co., which serves 977 customers in Bucks County.

At the same time, the Commission directed revision of metered rates of small consumers, with completion of the ordered rate changes as P. U. C. suspension and investigation into the tax boost will be ended.

The Commission directed the utility to fix a $7.95 minimum quarterly charge for the first 2,000 gallons or less and 66c a thousand for the next 23,000 gallons.

Yardley had asked a minimum quarterly charge of $13.23 for up to 10,000 gallons and 66c per thousand for the next 15,000 gallons. The remainder of Yardley's rate structure is unchanged.

The Commission's order will result in lower charges for small quantity consumers.

Bills of the average flat rate customers will go from $33.92 to $39.02 annually. The PUC had suspended the rates for nine months, starting last July 1st, for investigation.

Has Been Anxiously Awaited*HAVE FULL SCHEDULE

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Apr. 2—Fifteen boys and 25 girls, seniors of Benslem Township high school, left here at seven a. m. this morning for a trip to Washington, D. C.

The trip, scheduled for three days, is being made by bus. Accompanying the group are Lester Stump, teacher of geography and history; and Miss Orpha Chelland, teacher of biology and mathematics.

The first stop scheduled on the itinerary was for a rest in Havre de Grace, Md. The bus arrived in Annapolis, Md., at 11 a. m. There, the seniors visited the state house, liberty tree, St. John's College and the U. S. Naval Academy. They will enjoy a lunch at Carvel Hall, after which they will proceed to Washington. They will stop at the Franciscan Monastery, and then on to the U. S. Capitol building. After a visit to the Supreme Court,

Attack Early Today*LOCATED HERE IN 1918*Was Active in Civic and Fraternal Affairs
Here

An outstanding member of the medical profession in this community died suddenly early this morning, when Dr. H. Doyle Webb passed away at his residence, Radcliffe street and Jefferson avenue, of coronary occlusion. Dr. Webb had been in Philadelphia yesterday, and returning to his home in the afternoon suffered an attack. He was under constant medical attention from then until the time of his death shortly after midnight.

The death of Dr. Webb creates a vacancy not only in medical circles of this and the adjacent community, but also loses to the community a man close to the family lives of hundreds of residents of the area. He was interested in civic affairs, fraternal activities, and humanitarian projects.

Dr. Webb was born in Clinton township, Lyncoming county, October 30, 1889, the son of Melvin Webb and Therna A. Folk Webb. The survivor, in addition to his wife, Jane Frances MacMichael Webb, whom he married in New York, N. Y., Nov. 21, 1923, is a brother, Maurice F. Webb, of Coatesville.

Receiving his early education in the public schools of Clinton township, Dr. Webb then became a student at the State Normal School at Muncie, from which he graduated in 1908, and after taking a course in science at Pennsylvania State College he followed his medical studies at the Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia. He graduated in 1918 with the degree of doctor of medicine. He came to Bristol a year later and took up the practice of his profession, becoming associated

ACTION BEING TAKEN
ON NEW ORDINANCE*Police Committee Planning
For Purchase of New Parking Meters*FINES TO BE RAISED

John S. Lynn, chairman of the police committee of Bristol Borough Council, stated today that action is being taken on the ordinance passed at the last council meeting to increase the number of parking meters and to increase the fine for violations.

Lynn added: “The police committee as a whole has finished quite a bit of the necessary preliminary steps that must be taken before the meters themselves can be installed. The meters should be installed in the near future. The raising of the fine for parking meter violations from $1 to $2 is now in effect.”

The ordinance passed at the last council meeting approved the installation of meters in three new areas. They are:

(1) The 200 block on Wood and Cedar streets, between Market and Mulberry streets, on one side of the street, with no parking on the other side.

(2) Down Otter street to Swain street on both sides.

(3) The Harriman business section on both sides of Farragut avenue from Monroe street to Hayes street.

TAKE LOYALTY OATH

The loyalty oath was administered to members of the faculty and other employees of Bristol borough school district, as well as to two school directors, Monday afternoon. This was the second time for the group to “sign” the papers. The first time the faculty members and other employees signed the necessary papers individually in their own school buildings, but it was found necessary to take the oath here after a certain date as specified by law. The junior and senior high school teachers, employees in the high school building, and directors Alfred Lewis and John Dougherty, were administered the oath in the high school library at 3.15. At three o'clock, elementary teachers and other district employees took the oath in Jefferson avenue school building. Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol administered the oath.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Bristol Fathers Association tonight at eight o'clock at the home of Nicholas Mannherz, West Circle.

Report New Bridge Plan For New Hope-Lambertville

NEW HOPE, Apr. 2—A new Delaware River bridge to supplement the admittedly outmoded New Hope-Lambertville span, is being planned as part of a major bypass highway on Rt. 202. It was learned here. The proposed road will cut out entirely the congested business areas of the two communities.

The news came as the present 48-year-old bridge, called “obsolete” by town officials and residents, was closed permanently last Wednesday to all trucks weighing more than one ton.

The proposed Rt. 202 bypass which will begin at the western end of New Hope and lead to the proposed bridge near Rabbit Run at the town's northern boundary, will connect with Rt. 202 at the northern tip of Lambertville, it was reported.

Plans for the new bridge will be discussed at a meeting of the commission next month.

ASSIGN NEW RECTOR

LATEST NEWS BULLETINSPostpone Action on Trailer Tax Ordinance

Cornwells Heights—Approximately 50 individuals attended a meeting of Bensalem Twp. Supervisors in the Rigby building, here, this morning, protesting the proposed ordinance which would impose a $5 tax per month on trailers in the township. Action on the ordinance was postponed for two weeks. William White, chairman of the board, presided. Robert M. Beutner, president of Pa. Trailer Coach & Park Ass'n, attended also. John T. Fullam, Esq., and Chas. B. Ermentrout, Esq., appeared on behalf of the protestors, the Bucks Co. Trailer (not all trailer owners), the petitions claiming that the tax is “discriminatory and unfair, and out of proportion to taxes levied on other taxpayers in the township.” The supervisors were asked to reconsider and levy a “just and equitable tax.”

Ermentrout stated he felt the tax is unconstitutional as “you cannot tax trailers as trailers, but must tax them according to the value of each trailer.” He added that there is already a school tax in Bensalem of $2 per month per trailer. “You cannot tax trailers twice” he informed. Ermentrout gave as the third reason for “unconstitutionality” the fact that “You cannot force the owner of a park to collect the tax.” He added that “The power to tax is the power to destroy. It is well-known that the object of the ordinance is to drive trailer camps out of the township. If you pass this ordinance you will destroy a business.”

Kefauver Wins

Omaha—Senator Robert Kerr today conceded the Nebraska Democratic primary election to Senator Estes Kefauver as Senator Robert Taft widened his write-in margin over Kefauver in the Republican preferential balloting. Taft moved nearly five-thousand votes ahead of Eisenhower after a night-long neck-and-neck race. The Ohioan had the margin with more than half the state's 2,058 precincts reported.

In Nazareth Hospital

Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell, 57, of Street road near State road, Eddington, died in Nazareth Hospital this morning. Mrs. Mitchell had been in ill health for sometime and was more or less disturbed during the night. She was under the care of a physician. She made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Biren Bass, (Mrs. Bass is a niece of Mrs. Mitchell) and this morning Mrs. Mitchell, according to Chief of Police George Rentz, of Bensalem Township, informed Mr. and Mrs. Bass that she had taken poison during the night.

This ambulance, which was purchased from the Flexible Company of Loudenville, Ohio, contains the most modern equipment available. It is planned to put the ambulance into service about April 15th, but the definite date will be announced later.

A driver training school will start in the near future.

LEVITT HOUSES ARE NOW GOING UP*A Number Are Now Being Framed Ready To Be Closed In*TO BUILD 200 A WEEK

The Levitt houses are going up! Work got underway Monday and already several houses have been framed. They are located along “Levittown Parkway,” formerly the Tullytown - Oxford Valley road. This roadway is to be widened to 114 feet. The section where the houses are now being built is known as the “Stoneybrook” section and a spokesman for the Levitt interests today said that families would be moving in June 20.

“If weather like this continues, our production will be accelerated to 200 homes per week.”

The entire area is a bee-hive of activity. Fleets of trucks are hauling material to the scene. Carpenters are swarming over the area and the rat-a-tat-tat of hammers can be heard throughout the section. This is said to be only an indication of how the Levitt organization functions when it starts, and when it reaches the peak of production, it will be a sight to watch.

COMPLICATED WEAPONS

An article in the latest issue of Fortune Magazine asks whether newer military weapons aren't becoming complicated to the point of diminishing returns. "Not every military gadget is necessarily worth whatever it costs," says Fortune, "just because it might save a life."

Here are a few examples the editors have chosen to document their case: A B-36 bomber carries 2,143 vacuum tubes, which, they say, may help explain the shockingly low availability of these planes at B-36 bases. An F-86 fighter has 495 vacuum tubes aboard and there are 86 switches, levers, and the like which the pilot must know how to push, pull, twist, and so on. The same pilot has about 100 other dials and indicators to watch.

All Army trucks are being fitted with an expensive "snorkel" attachment which will permit their being driven under water. The chance of any single truck having to make a snorkel voyage has been figured at about one in 1,000.

The Navy started out to build a small, easily put together killer submarine. But the Bureau of Ships kept tossing in this and that gadget until the finished product can only be built by about one yard in the country. The hull is so jam-packed with complicated gear that the crew complement has been trebled and there is room for only four torpedoes inside the hull! The cost is now $10,000,000 per sub. Big fleet-type subs formerly were built for $3,500,000.

Some of our complicated weapons and their terrifying maintenance problems seem to reflect pet projects and hunches of military leaders more than they do the sober findings of civilian-military weapons evaluation and research groups.

HOW DEADLY THE FUTURE

The year 1952 is old enough now for its record of highway deaths to be put in comparison with records of the past. One-fourth of 1952 is history. Highway deaths have shown a gain over last year.

The nation is face to face with the prospect of vastly more killing on the roads, year by year, unless some great, new, tactical effort is made. In 15 years there may be twice as many cars as now. In 1952 roads seem crowded with 50,000,000 vehicles. By 1967 there may be 100,000,000.

Somewhat, ways must be found to shake Americans awake. Insurance companies are pulling together now for an all-out attack on highway death and destruction.

What education cannot accomplish, perhaps law enforcement can. And certainly proposals for roads with more built-in safety and for "training children today to live with tomorrow's traffic," are moves in the right direction.

Bandits who stole $600,000 in Massachusetts fled, as usual, in a black sedan, apparently not wishing to break any conventions.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Apr. 2.

It is going to cost us $101,237 more this year to keep President Truman in the style to which he is now accustomed.

One of the major items of increased expenditures at the White House is $38,890 to help keep the President cool. This is the price tag on the electric light and power bill for the White House for 1952, a sum that staggered House Appropriations committee members who admit they usually growl if their own utility bills pass the $10 mark monthly. The amount will help pay for running the new air conditioning unit installed in the renovated White House.

Moving vans already have hauled the historic furniture and paintings back to the executive mansion. The President is anxious to move back in, after the refurbishing job that cost $5,000,000. Workmen at the White House state that when in Washington, Mr. Truman almost daily, late in the afternoon, wanders over to the White House from his executive offices to check the day's rebuilding progress.

The President and his family will not only be cooler this summer, but will have more room and a larger staff of servants. Ten new servants have been authorized by the House Appropriations committee for 1952, including four engineers, two electricians and four housemen.

No one, least of all the congressmen on the committee, can figure out where the new White House space is coming from. The remodeled job, which was authorized by congress only after many presidential promises that the basic structure would be retained, now has 40 per cent more space than previously.

The money that was supposed to have been spent for the preservation of the historic building, actually was spent in remodeling the entire interior, plus raising the roof, deepening the basement and constructing a solarium atop the building. About all that is left of the old building is the exterior shell.

White House reconstruction work was supposed to be completed last December, but labor difficulties and shortages of material delayed the rebuilding and increased the President's anxiety. There were no actual strikes, only jurisdictional disputes over the installation of various devices and materials.

Another point interesting to congressmen is that the President has been spending more money in operating the White House than the law allows. This, despite the fact that the House Appropriations committee and the comptroller general's office have forbidden deficiency appropriations for the executive mansion.

Mr. Truman created what will amount to a $31,600 deficiency this year when he raised salaries of White House employees without consulting congress.

F. T. Gartside, assistant superintendent of the National Capital Parks commission, which maintains the White House and grounds, explained to congress that the President assumed the authority to exceed his, White House and executive office salary budget by digging up an obscure law which the President says gives him the right to increase wages without regard to certain sections of the United States code. Members of the House Appropriations committee are thumbing through the law books looking for the loophole. Mr. Truman is also looking ahead. He has asked congress to consider hiring one assistant housekeeper to help keep him comfortable, in addition to the 10 other new employees. This employee, to be paid $4,045 annually, will be charged off against the 1953 budget.

Gartside persuaded the congressmen to go along with the president's request when he said:

"We have one housekeeper authorized and want an assistant because obviously somebody must be there 16 hours out of the 24, and the only way to get a 24-hour housekeeper is to marry one."

That ended the discussion. House members present were aware that too much talk of this nature could lead to trouble at home.

By HELEN FOLLETT

WHEN you fare forth to buy new footwear, be prepared to wrestle with your conscience but let common sense prevail. You're going to be terribly tempted because you may have to choose between shoes of comfort and those of dazzling loveliness.

If you search long enough, though, you will find a pair that fulfill both qualities. Don't forget that your feet carry your weight—let us hope it is normal weight. You should treat your hoofs with respect, if not loving attention.

To Shorten Feet

Decorations are designed to make feet look shorter, the designers say. Fortunately they aren't shattering. They just look that way because they are built up high in front. That's a good style for the plumpies. A roll of flesh on the top of the foot is no beauty bargain.

There is a good sample of this mode in two-tone booties with slim platforms perched on fine leather soles. The scalloped treatment of the tongue and the high-riding effect on the back of the shoe keynote its youthful air.

Sizes Change

Don't forget that a certain size that is perfectly comfortable in one pair of shoes may be virtually crippling, if you switch to another model. Don't insist on a size if it isn't comfortable.

Finding the ideal last for your foot often involves a trial-and-error process in the shoe store. You'll find it by feel which means sitting, standing and walking. Once you find your best shoe last, stick to it.

Do your shopping late in the day. Believe it or be scornful, but feet tend to elongate during the day, after much tramping. Late buying allows for this expansion.

40 Bensalem Seniors Leave for Capital

they will check in at the Carroll Arms Hotel, where they will dine at six. During the evening, they will visit Ford's Theater, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial and the National Airport.

Tomorrow, the group will visit the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. From there they will proceed to Jefferson Memorial, Pan American Union and Library of Congress. In the afternoon, they will visit Fort Meyer, Arlington National Cemetery, the Lee Mansion and Alexandria and Mt. Vernon, Va. After dinner, the boys and girls will have a free evening for swimming or theater parties.

The morning of the last day will begin with a tour of the Smithsonian Institute, then a choice of the National Art Gallery or the Dept. of Commerce Aquarium. From 10:30 until noon, the group will go on a shopping tour. Another tour will follow in the afternoon. The bus will take them sightseeing through the district, including embassies, legations, residential Washington, Rock Creek Park, St. Albans Cathedral, and the National Zoological Gardens. After dinner at the hotel, the group will prepare to leave for home. They are expected to arrive home about 11 p. m. Friday.

The seniors in the group are as follows: Barbara Achs, Dorothy Bingham, Dorothy Blank, Doris Brown, Barbara Butz, Margaret Carrillo, Mildred Culp, Louise Dougherty, Angela Gabriele, Marlene Holford, Delores Jacoby, Elizabeth Carruth, Norma Lappan, Doris Leinauer, Marie Meredith, Katherine Miller, Claire Olson, Mary Phillips, Lois Roeschen, Matilda Serravalle, Alice Sleeman, Jean Stallone, Lillian Tinsman, Sally VanSant, Judith Waters, Robert Ballistay, Raymond Bannon, Russell Fifer, Richard Gloyd, James Henry, Edward Hundapillar, Robert MacKenzie, Joseph Makelaites, Allen Morrison, "Paddy" Rever, "Ronnie" Schulz, Clifford Sommerfeld, Louis Usin, Franklin Werber, Robert Whitfield.

Mrs. Williams reported, and very nervously said several times, "This is a stickup." She was unable to make positive identification of Stephen Kloiber as the second man who entered the building.

The woman said she was ordered to put all of the money in a box carried by Senkovich.

Mrs. Williams described how the two men escaped in a black car and "not a green car as was reported erroneously."

At Morgan's questioning, Mrs. Williams testified Senkovich was the man who stuck up the establishment and "held the gun on Mr. Weinstein (the manager) while I got the money."

Gardner asked one question in cross-examining Mrs. Williams. The woman again reported it was a black car which was used for the getaway of the holdup men.

LT. Mink went through a lengthy questioning by Morgan and Gardner.

Mink testified that Senkovich, in the presence of both Kloibers, admitted that he had robbed the dress factory payroll and admitted knowing the Kloibers.

There was a dispute between Gardner and Mink on the methods used to secure Senkovich's confession. Gardner said he wanted to know the "voluntary nature of the confession."

Senkovich escaped from the Bucks County Prison on December 11, last year, by scaling the wall. He was a trusty at the time. Since that time his record proves that he would qualify for anything but a trusty. Senkovich will most likely be taken back to Bucks county after his Lehigh county case is disposed of in criminal court here.

Child Fearful Of Bullies

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

• THINK of all the young children who are in constant dread of bullies. How many parents must be vexed at the bully next door, in the wider neighborhood, or on the way to and from school, the bully who torments their children and keeps them in a continual state of fear.

Many a child in kindergarten or early grades cries to stay home on school mornings, feigns illness then or actually is ill. Parents of the child who often doesn't want to go to school or seems very unhappy about school, should first look into the possibility that this child dreads bullies.

Bully May Be Younger

Sometimes the bully is no older or larger than the child he bullies. Occasionally the bully may actually be the younger. In such an instance the problem may be far more difficult than if the bully were relatively much larger or older. Usually then the intimidated child needs a long skillful program in the art of self-defense, needs to learn to stand up and protect himself with his bare hands when attacked by another child about his size.

But if this easily-intimidated child has been told he must never fight in self-defense, he may have had so much practice at ready submission, at fighting with sticks and stones, at fighting from ambush, or at running to his mother for protection, that for him now to learn self-defense won't be easy. More often than not he will choose to play with much younger children and bully them himself, or to play with much older children, who incline to protect him and let him have his way.

Normal Rough-and-Tumble
Now you can see why I so often entreat parents to try to get their children, whether three, eight or twelve, to play freely in the rough-and-tumble of the playground with children of their own ages. (My bulletins, "Your Child and His Playmates," and "Fear," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

When the bully your child most often dreads is older and stronger than your child, some protection of your child may be necessary. No use to urge an already over-timid youngster to take a stand against a bully much bigger or older than himself. If, however, your child should succeed, his victory will be glorious.

Usually Isn't Happy

The best thing to do is to try to change the bully. Usually he's a coward and isn't happy. Fearful of other bullies, he picks out weaker children over whom he can lord it and thus kid himself that he is brave. Or he may enjoy very few satisfactions from achievement at home or elsewhere.

If the bully lives nearby, you might befriend him by hiring him occasionally to run an errand for you, or by inviting him to your premises under favorable conditions. Praise him for worthy traits or deeds and tell his parents of such in his presence. Cubing or Scouting might help him. Most of all, carefully study your own child to ascertain if he is a bully, and give him the necessary guidance if he is.

Federal Gov't Must Be Overhauled, He Says

$1784 for every family, or $456 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

The Federal government today employs 2,500,000 people at a cost of $3 1/2 billion per month. One dollar out of every $4 we earn goes for the support of the Federal government, the speaker said.

"About $1 in every $10 spent is being wasted," Turner declared.

"For instance, 29 agencies lend money, 28 handle welfare projects, 16 are in wild life preservation; 50 are compiling statistics. One agency had enough light bulbs to last 93 years. One department had 24 supervisors for 25 employees.

"At least $5,400,000,000 could be saved annually if the Federal government were run efficiently and economically."

The speaker said that 50 per cent of the Hoover Report has already been adopted at an annual savings of $2 billions. The armed services have been unified; the State Department reorganized; budget and accounting systems have been modernized; and the purchasing, storage, records and management procedures improved.

"This was all accomplished," Turner declared, "through the adoption of 21 laws and 26 Presidential reorganization plans based on the bipartisan Hoover Commission's recommendations. They were all enacted by the 81st Congress."

"But, the 82nd Congress which convened in January, 1951, has done practically nothing, despite the fact that 29 Hoover Report bills, covering all the remaining 150 recommendations of the Commission were introduced in both the House and Senate, March and April, 1951."

The speaker said that while President Truman submitted 36 reorganization plans in 1949-50, he introduced only one plan in 1951.

The extra $3 to $5 billions can be saved, Turner said, through reorganization and improvement of the Agricultural Department, Veterans Administration, Federal medical services, natural resources, personnel management and postal services.

The Hoover Commission, Turner explained, was created by Congress, and consisted of six Democrats and six Republicans.

"The money and efficiency costs of replacing over 800,000 government workers in a single year—the present turnover is beyond comprehension," Turner said. "The payroll exceeds $3.3 billions a year, more than the costs of the whole Federal government in any year before World War II."

"As matters stand now, the Government is moving into uncalculated obligations in the medical field without consideration or understanding of their ultimate cost. Today four great agencies and thirty smaller ones independently obtain funds annually, erect their own hospitals to care for their own clientele, and compete with each other for scarce medical personnel."

The speaker described the Department of Agriculture as "awful."

"American farmers are 'key men' in defense and deserve the best possible Federal service, but they are not getting it," Turner declared. "The Department of Agriculture spends $32 for each $1 it spent twenty years ago, and its employees have risen from 20,000 to 80,000 not counting over 100,000 part-time workers."

Turner said "a revitalized Veterans Administration is needed, for this is one of the most inefficiently operated departments in Washington."

"There are 19,000,000 veterans today compared with 4,000,000 in 1930 when the administration was established by President Hoover. Each year the number will increase. Before many years, nearly all of the population may be veterans or dependents of veterans. A revitalized bureau will not in any way decrease veterans' benefits, but will provide better and more efficient service for veterans and their families at greatly reduced costs. The American Legion is the one veterans' organization opposing the Hoover Commission's suggestions."

The speaker said that "conservation of the nation's natural resources as well as its man-power is vital."

"Pork barrel" plans for utilization and development of the nation's water resources and subsoil cannot be controlled unless the ruinous competition between the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation is halted," Turner said.

"And as for an improved postal service, the postal establishment today is a $2 billion business. It still needs decentralization and the removal from politics of the appointment of 24,000 postmasters. Some Hoover Commission recommendations have already been adopted."

The speaker emphasized the way to get the remaining Hoover Report recommendations across is to write to President Truman, to members of Congress, urging the Senate and House leaders to enact the balance of the report, and to do it immediately, for adoption by May 31, 1952.

Meeting in Way
Mrs. John W. Cooper, of Doylestown, announced that a meeting of the Council will be held about May 22, in Doylestown, and that U. S. Senator Edward Martin, and Congressman Karl King have been invited to attend. She also urged all Americans to vote at the Primary Election on April 27.

"The kinds of government we have rests entirely upon your shoulders," Mrs. Cooper said.

Last night's meeting was opened by Mrs. Norman W. Lear, of Doylestown, president of the Council. An excellent legislative committee report was presented by Mrs. Donald Weisel, of Doylestown, and several two-plane numbers were presented by the "Piano Symphonette," including Mrs. George Duval, Mrs. William Donaldson, Mrs. Herbert Williams and Mrs. Arthur G. Kinney.

The speaker said that while President Truman submitted 36 reorganization plans in 1949-50, he introduced only one plan in 1951.

The plant has its own teletype exchange and its telephone switchboard receives calls daily from all parts of the United States and abroad.

Rapuno Sire Attains An "Approved" Rating

An Ayrshire sire, "Neshaminy Trademark," owned by Michael Rapuno, Newtown, has been given the high rating of "approved," according to the Ayrshire Breeders' Association Executive Secretary, C. T. Conklin, of Brandon, Vt.

The Ayrshire "Approved" rating has been given to the sire in recognition of the superior producing ability of his daughters when compared to their dams.

The Rapuno sire qualified on his nine daughters that average 10688 lbs. of 4.43% milk and 474 lbs. of butterfat.

The "Approved" Ayrshire sire plan that was adopted in 1940 by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association, has enabled Ayrshire breeders all over the country to improve their herds and increase milk production.

Mary Jane Vandegrift, 21, Has Birthday Celebration

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Apr. 2.—Miss Mary Jane Vandegrift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raymond Vandegrift, celebrated her 21st birthday anniversary on Saturday with a baked ham dinner. The room was decorated in pink, and a bouquet of pink flowers centered the table.

During the dinner, Mary Jane received a surprise gift of a bouquet of 21 red roses from Cpl. John G. Rittenhouse, who is with the Air Corps at Macdon Air Base, Ga.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scull, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Rittenhouse, Mrs. Eva Grumman, Croydon; Miss Dolores Cobb, Edington; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickland and son Forrest, Beach Haven, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dedrick, Sr., Cornwells Heights.

Mary Jane received gifts. Cards were played.

these matters, though something has happened to make most of them reluctant to talk except in confidence.

Their close relatives know all about the inconveniences and hardships.

But the public in general appears to have closed its mind. "Business as usual" is the motto, and a great many citizens seem rather happy to have the President's pretext that "there is no war in Korea" as a means of shutting their eyes to what actually has been going on.

Dead soldiers slain in battle being denied the honors due them because President Truman refuses to concede the obvious facts and call his war a "war"—the whole sorry subject is unhappily brought back into the forefront of our minds because it now appears that this same technicality may also rob thousands of soldiers of their right to vote.

NEWPORTVILLE

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Beach were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Williams and daughter Lynn, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt and the Misses Mary and Ida Murphy, Staten Island, N. Y., were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Englebert Smith, Jr.

ANDALUSIA

Den No. 5 held a meeting Saturday at the home of Mrs. Roy Clark. The boys planted gardens of sweet potatoes, carrots and clover seeds. They practiced drill marching in preparation for the Memorial day parade. Two of the boys had birthdays this month, namely "Jimmie" Rowan and John Elinch. Ice cream and cake were served.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith and children Karen and David were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Farrington, Chestnut Hill.

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS

On Saturday evening a surprise baked ham dinner was served in honor of Henry Boyer by his wife for his birthday anniversary. Guests were: Mrs. Anna Gallus, Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. John Miehle and son John, Croydon; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pietrak and son Paul, Gradyville; Mrs. Elva Jenks, Adolph Krout, Karl, Lusia and Martina Boyer, Cornwells Heights.

Cpl. Richard Doheny, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Doheny, returned Saturday to New Castle Air Force Base, after being home for nine days furlough.

Frank Purcell, Jr., Tyburn road, is spending three weeks in Red Springs, N. C., training with the Philadelphia "A" Farm baseball team.

Mr. and Mrs. James Peterson, Newtown, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Pres't of State Federation Is To Meet Queen Juliana

Mrs. Harry W. Schaaf, of Erie, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, will be one of the honor guests, tomorrow, at Washington, D. C., when Queen Juliana, of Holland, will be the guest of Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at the headquarters of the federation in Washington, D. C.

En route to Washington, Mrs. Schaaf will stop at Harrisburg, where she will meet with her committee planning the 55th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Harrisburg, May 26-27-28. Sessions of the convention will be in the Forum of the State Educational Building. The convention banquet will be held in the Zimbo Mosque.

Highlighting the speakers for the convention will be: Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College, who will be the banquet speaker; Catherine Drinker Bowen, famous author, who will be the speaker on Tuesday evening; Dr. F. Eppinger Reinartz, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America, who will speak at the opening session of the convention on Monday afternoon; Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant of General Motors, the Tuesday morning speaker; Mrs. Adolf Robison, accredited observer, United Nations, a speaker for the Tuesday afternoon session.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Dr. John E. Mertz,
pastor Newtown Presbyterian Church

In the mountains there is need for beacon lights to guide the planes safely over their peaks. The Scriptures insist that man too needs direction. We need to ask ourselves three questions: What is the goal of life? How do I stand with reference to the best? Have I found sufficient power to help me measure up to that which apparently is so far beyond me? Such a quest will end with Jesus, the Morning Light. We are grateful to the teachers, like Socrates, who by their light have helped men chart their courses. But light-houses are not as helpful as daylight for ships seeking port. In Christ there is no darkness at all. He lived the perfect life, and in His obedience to the divine law, climaxed on Calvary, He released energy which makes it possible for us to become new creatures, who want to do His will, rather than feeling a mere compulsion to do right.

Jr. McKinley street, drove to Fort Dix, N. J., to visit Mrs. Elizabeth Weller.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Burke and daughter Judith, Corson street, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rittenbaugh, Egg Harbor, N. J. Mrs. Fred Pfaffner, Wildwood Villas, N. J., is spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Burke.

Edwin F. Burke, S. I. C. son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Burke, will leave Norfolk, Va., on Thursday for Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ill., to attend Electronics technician training school for nine months. Seaman Burke just returned from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Norman Meyers, Cedar street, was admitted to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., on Sunday for observation.

Judith Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Burke, Corson street, celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary at a party at her home on Saturday afternoon. Decorations were in keeping with the Easter season. Each guest received a basket of candy and a hat. The children played games, and prizes were awarded to Vance Betz, Jr., Joseph Monti and Mary Ann Frontario. Other guests were: Sandra Saxton, Shirley Sessa, Mary Jo and Susan Snyder, Linda Krommes, "Ray" Vandenberg, Joanne and Mildred Dougherty, Nancy Hepler, "Billy" Kolaro, "Ronnie" Dillard, Charles Welks, "Cathy" and Patricia Gross, Dennis Crilly, Beverly Breslin, and Carmella Frontario. Judith received gifts.

The Juniors of Bucks Co. Federation of Women's Clubs held their final president's council meeting, Thursday evening in the Travel Club home. Presidents and committee chairmen from 11 clubs were present. Mrs. E. Wilmer Fisher, Morrisville, president of the Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs; Wallace G. Murfit, of Newtown, chairman of the Salvation Army Drive in Bucks Co., and Mr. Glendinning, Philadelphia, were guests. Miss Joanne B. Gallagher, Newtown, third vice-president of the federation, introduced Mr. Murfit, who thanked those present for their work in soliciting funds for the "Army" and urged them to carry on the work again this year. Chairmen of program and finance committees gave their reports at this meeting.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Bristol Township Elementary School

Bristol Township school district was represented by Mrs. A. Erna McKevitt, elementary music teacher, at the Music Educators National Conference convention in Philadelphia, March 21-26. Many inspiring and interesting experiences were shared with representatives from all over the United States plus foreign representatives from Belgium, Israel, Canada and Australia.

The object of M. E. N. C. convention is to give members an opportunity to see and hear the progress of music education in United States public schools. Musical organizations from elementary to college groups coming from various parts of the United States participated.

The keynote of the convention was expressed by Dr. Goslin, administrator of human relations, Peabody Teachers College, in his opening address. He stressed the importance of "freedom in education" if we want to continue the

The Philadelphia schools provided exciting and inspiring demonstrations of the importance of music in the school curriculum through a Saturday morning program of elementary school music activities. A program "Schools on Parade" given on Monday evening showed instrumental, vocal and dancing activities of elementary and high schools.

The Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra held an open rehearsal on Monday morning which is quite without parallel. On Monday afternoon Mrs. McKevitt attended the tea and reunion of the Fred Waring Workshop members, and again relived the experience of singing under Waring's direction.

OPEN MONDAY and FRIDAY EVENINGS

FRANKLIN EVENS
PLAYOFF SERIES;
CORNWELLS LOSES

Franklin A. C. evened the playoff series of the Bristol Basketball League, last night, by whipping Cornwells Boys Club, 75-56, on the Goodwill Hose Company court. The third and final game of the series will be played next Monday night at eight o'clock on the Goodwill floor.

Only the first quarter of the tilt was close as the "iron man" stunt of the Cornwells team failed. The regular season champions again used only five players in the lineup but Franklin was hitting from all sides of the court.

The game was tied three times in the initial quarter at 7, 9, and 15, with Curran deadlocking the score at the latter point. However, just before the whistle blew, Howard Keys put Franklin in front by a 17-15 count. The lead swelled as the game progressed and at one point, Franklin held a 23-point lead.

Stan Lelinski started the second period with a side shot and Spencer followed with a tap-in. When Pete Bound scored for Cornwells, the count was 21-17. Bill Curran brought the season champions to within two points with a fielder under the net but Franklin clicked for six field goals and two fouls before Reggie Samero broke the spell by dunking a foul goal. The score at this point was 35-20. Lelinski scored his fifth double-decker of the period and Joe Spencer added another to wipe out three points scored by Oliver and Dwyer. Score at the end of the half was 39-23. Franklin continued to rain in field goals in the third quarter but stopped suddenly and began to coast. Cornwells did not take advantage of the relaxation and were trailing by 55-32 at the end of the third session.

In the fourth quarter, Cornwells began to come to life and scored ten points within the first three minutes to cut the Franklin edge. But Grant Eckert took charge of the situation and scored four successive fielders for Franklin to nullify the Cornwells rally. Eckert scored six fielders in the final quarter to bring his total for the night to 16 points, one more than Stan Lelinski and the same number as scored by Spencer. Keys and Dezzy DeLise also hit the double figures for the winners.

For Cornwells, Bill Curran, Eddie Oliver, and Bound were high with Oliver getting 18 points.

Lineups:

Team	Gls.	Fls.	F.T.	Pts.
Cornwells	6	2	3	56
Curran	4	1	1	18
Oliver	5	1	1	18
Dwyer	1	1	1	4
Bound	5	2	2	12

Franklin	25	6	17	56
Eckert	8	0	1	16
Keys	5	1	1	11
DeLise	5	1	1	11
Lelinski	7	1	3	15
Palumbo	3	0	0	6
Spencer	8	0	0	16

Referee: Morgan and McCoy; Time: 36; Score: Cornwells 56; Franklin 75.

INTRAMURAL RESULTS

In the Bristol High Senior Intramural League games yesterday, 11-2 won over 11-A-1 by a 28-26 score with Capriotti scoring 14 points for the winning team, 11-A-2 topped 10-1 by a 29-19 count and 11-3X won over 10-1-1 by a 31-25 score. Kornstedt scored 13 points in the latter's win while Alfrey was high for 11-A-2.

JEFFERSON WINS
OVER THE CELTICS

Jefferson A. C. won over the Celtics in a hard-fought game on the Goodwill Hose court last evening in the preliminary game to the playoffs. Final count was: Jefferson, 32; Celtics, 26.

Bob Stroble was high for the winning team with 13 points while Charlie Brady had 11 points for the Celtics.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE OPENS

The Bristol Township Elementary Leagues opened yesterday. In softball, the Laurel Bend girls beat the Delhaas girls, 18-9, with Carol Schell doing the pitching for the winners. In baseball, the Delhaas team, with Alton Rexrode on the mound, defeated the Laurel Bend boys, 9-6.

SEWING BOYS

NEW YORK (INS) — Sewing classes for boys only — first of their kind ever conducted — have been inaugurated at the Madison Square Boys' Club. Purpose of the novel sewing course is to have boys help their mothers by doing their own sewing of rips and tears.

The Celtics basketball team made a clean sweep in the Y. M. C. A. senior league. In addition to winning the regular season championship, they defeated the Langhorne Aces on the Rohm & Haas court by a score of 68 to 47 to win the playoffs. The Celtics team completely dominated the 19-team league for the entire season. They played consistently good ball all year long. They specialized in team play which was a big factor in all of their victories. Charlie Brady with 23 points and Mike Downs' 18 points led the winners against the Langhorne Aces in the final game. Big Bill Mulligan played a good game under the backboards. John Ludwig of the losing team had 16 points. At one time during the game the Celtics held a slim 41-38 score but turned on the pressure to turn the game into a runaway.

It was announced by the managers of both these teams that they are seeking post-season games.

All of the playoffs were very well officiated by Joseph Sagolla, physical education instructor of the Bristol school system.

In addition to the ten teams in the past season it is anticipated that at least six more teams will be in the league next year.

The Bristol Clubmen's Association will present a trophy to the Celtics team, winners of the league, at a meeting of the Hibernians of Bristol, sponsors of the Celtics team. The Clubmen's Association have recently presented a similar trophy to St. Ann's A. A. Jrs., winners of the Midget YMCA League.

RECIPES

Fish Amantine

4 ounces broad noodles
4 cup enriched bread crumbs
1 tablespoon enriched flour
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup milk
4 fish fillets
Salt and pepper

1/4 cup slivered almonds
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender (about 5 minutes). Drain and rinse. While noodles are cooking, combine the bread crumbs, flour and salt. Mix in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add milk and fold in noodles. Place in greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Arrange fish fillets on

top. Season with salt and pepper. Brown almonds lightly in remaining butter or margarine. Add lemon juice to almonds and spoon over fish fillets. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 25 minutes or until fish is tender. Makes 4 servings.

George Washington had red hair, usually covered by a white wig.

WELCOME ARRIVAL!
One man who can count on a glad reception on every visit he makes is the telephone installer

He knows how eagerly his arrival is awaited. And he knows how much it can mean, in time, convenience and travel saved, for each new telephone customer.

Telephone installers, like other telephone men and women, would like nothing better than to be able to connect every new telephone on the very day it is asked for. Most of the time, in most places, this can be done. But when new cable, new switchboards and other Central Office equipment are needed . . . as is sometimes the case . . . new telephones just can't be installed on short notice. The job takes time . . . and it takes many materials that are anything but plentiful. But we're doing everything we possibly can to meet every request for service, both civilian and military, with the least possible delay.
